Yamini Jaipuria's philanthropic work for strays and frontline workers has contributed to the betterment of the society become a major backbone in helping the causes that matter. Through Cosmo Foundation, she has helped more than 10,000 people get vaccinated. Moreover, she recently planted more than 50K trees, and has pledged to plant 1.5 lakh more trees in India in the near future. She is a promoter of Zigly, a D2C pet care business with five stores in Delhi and more to come nationally, and runs the Petsfamilya community. The community has tied up with various NGOs to sponsor meals and help treat stray dogs regularly. It also works on hosting a monthly community adoption drive to ensure that our furry buddies find their home. Her initiatives have been a pillar of support to all the furry buddies in need of help. Also, she has recently donated 500kg food for strays and have been helping them

The last few years have been unprecedented with Covid-19 having a severe impact on lives across the globe. In such difficult times, some not only came forward with a helping hand, but also took centre stage to give hope to the most vulnerable communities of the world. One such example is Yamini Jaipuria, managing trustee, Cosmo Foundation, the community outreach division of Cosmo First Limited.

From helping frontline workers fight Covid-19 to reaching out to support migrant workers, Jaipuria
